BOISE, Jan. 22.—For the first time since the legislature convened on January 6 the house of representatives today passed a bill with all the formality prescribed by the regularly adonted rules. Two bills have been previously passed, but in each instance a suspension of the rules was brought into play in order to effect the enactment. House bill No. 2, by Oversmith of Latah, creating a new indicial district, to be comprised of the counties of Idaho. Nex Perce and Lewis, and to be known as the Tenth district, was put through the house this morning without a dissenting vote.

The consideration of the new "Power county bill." The introduction of three more senate bills and an attempt on the nart of Senator Dunning to prevent the legislature from going on record in favor of Governor Hawley for the secretaryship of the interior, were the features of to-day's senate session. Shortly after the joint session the senate took a recess until this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, at which time the legislature went into joint assembly to hear Senator Borah's speech.

Declaring for the recall of the secretary of the interior of the United States. Senator Borah attacked the interior department. He advised the legislature to pass the needed legislation the people demand and settle the senatorial situation as quickly as possible.

Senator Borah asked the support of the clubs.

Senator Borah asked the support of the legislature of this and every other western state in his proposed legislation providing for the reclamation of western lands by the government free of cost to the settlers. He argued his plan as beneficial and as necessary as the expenditure by the government of millions of dollars for the building of the Panama-canal, the improvement of bays, harbors and rivers, asserting the agricultural industry should be recognized with this financial assistance.

The castern idea of conservation was aitterly scored by Senator Borah and that of the west praised. While he did not feel he might be justified in recommending to President-elect Wilson to appoint a western man and particularly James H. Hawley, ex-governor of this state, he said he believed no man from the west is better fitted to hold the portfello.

SAVE A COUPON AND GET SET OF BOOKS

Friday and Saturday Are the Days of The Tribune's Great Distribution

Think of st-s five-volume set of modern reference books for one coupon and $2.53! It doesn't seem possible, but a syndicate of leading newspapers has placed the largest book order ever given to a publisher, and The Tribune will give its readers the benefit by distributing these sels on the popular coupon plan next Friday and Saturday.

This wonderful set of books is called Everybody's Cyclopedia. Its pages are filled with ready reference information suitable for all purposes. In science and art blography, and all other encyclopedic subjects it is complete. Its chronological history begins with the first records known to man and is brought down through the ages to the important events of this year. It is illustrated as is no similar work, with full page and double page color pistes and monotones which cost thousands of dollars to prepare; and instructive text illustrations abound throughout the five volumes. Briefly, it is the latest, greatest and best modern reference work extant, and is to be compared only to the highest price cyclopedias which sell on the installment plan at from $50 to $100 a set. All this useful information in these large and unwieldy volumes is set forth in readable form in Everybody's Cyclopedia.

Read the display announcement print-

Read the display announcement printed elsewhere in this issue. Look for the coupon and clip it without delay. Only one coupon is required. Five thousand dictionaries were distributed to readers of The Tribune a year ago, and here is even a greater bargain, as the regular selling price of Everybody's Cyclopedia is $12.

Mail orders will be filled as explained Mail orders will be filled as explained in the coupen. Cut out the coupen to-day and present it either next Friday or Saturday.
